Ebenezer Camp Macting.

The time-honored camp-meeting at old Ebenezer commenced on Thur day last and culminated on Sanday with the largest crowd of visitors ever remembered to have met there before. At an early hour in the morning v. hicles of all shapes, siz s, kinds and ages, many of them of almost antediluvian make, some of which had not been moved since last camp-meeting. for it is well known that everything on wheels, except a wheel-barrow, is brought into requisiton on these oceasions began to roll out to the scene. For hours the tide of travel continued until the road was pulverized and grounded and stirred up into fine dust, covering the camp goers, vehicles and harness, horses and mules into almost unrecognizable forms, and penctrating windows and doors of houses along the road. They all reached the ground at last, however, when it was estimated that the number might be set down anywhere between twentyfive hundred and three thousand. A large majority of these persons were actuated no doubt by curiosity and the desire to see and be seen, but we have been told the conduct of this large and promiseuous crowd was remarkably orderly and attentive. We are pleased to learn this, as we always prefer to have a good report rather than a bad one. The 8 o'clock sermon Sunday morning by Rev. W. D. Kirkland was one of a most telling kind, it was so practical and pain that all were pleased, and edifled, this sermon and that of Rev. W. W. Duncan at 11 o'clock are much talked about, the latter occupied one hour and fifteen minutes in duration and created a profound impression. The arbor was completely taken up by

The August

Issue of The Eelectic Magazine presents : goodly list of important and interesting goodly list of important and interesting articles. Among those to which special attention may be called, the following may be designated: "Le Style C'est l'Homme, hy Lord Lytton, is a charmingly written study of the personal elements which enter into good literary work. Mr. R. Brooks discusses "Postic Emotion and Affinities." in a suggestive manner. "The Peor Man's Gos-pel," from the Contemporary Review, by pel," from the Contemporary Richard Heath, is a fresh and pungent treatment of a subject, which in some one or other of its phases is now attracting more attention tuan any other. The article on the Princess," sketches a noble and sweet life, and is full of pathetic touches. Mr. Justice Stephen presents the argument against Agnostici-m so powerfully advocated in our re-cent numbers by Herbert Spencer, Frederick Harrison, and others, in a strong paper bear ing the title "The Unknowable and the Unknown." Other articles of more than usual interest are "The Russien Peasants Before and After their Emancipation," by C. L. Johnstone. "Under the Shadow of the Sphinx," "Body and Mind," by Andrew Wilson, F. R. S., "Art and Life," by H. D. T., and "The Mahdi and Mohammedau Predictions Concerning the Last Days," by C. E Stein. The latter paper from the Ninetenth Century is specially significant in view of the important events now occurring in Egypt and Central Africa.

CITIZEN OF MACON.

In August, 1881, nearly three years ago, my son, who was at that time living at Clinton, Ga., came over to see me with Me sad intelligence that his wife was in the last stages of consumption and that her physician had pronounced her case, hopeless. I went immediately over, and I felt that nothing could be done. She was coughing and spitting incessantly, and at times would discharge from her lungs a large quantity of pus or matter—could not sleep or retain snything on her stomach, and was, in fact, in the last stages of the disease. This was snything on her stomach, and was, in fact, in the last stages of the disease. This was about the time you began to advertise Brewer's Lung Restorer, and as my son expressed a desire to give it to his wife, two or three bottles were procured and with scarcely a vestige of hope we commenced giving it to her in small doses gradually increasing the quantity until the prescribed dose was reached. She began to improve after a few doses and continued to do so daily, until she was finally restored to life and health, and is to day perhaps in better and health, and is to day perhaps in bette health than ever before. She is subject to health than ever before. She is subject to colds, but a few swallows of Brewer's Lung Restorer (which she is never without) relieves her immediately. I consider her restoration to perfect health a miracle, for which she is indebted to Brewer's Lung Restorer. My son is almost a monomaniac on the subject of Brewer's Lung Restorer and never lets an opportunity pass where he thinks such a medicine would be required, that he does not speak of it in most glowing terms. Not long since a Northern gentleman on his way to Florida heard of this cure and was induced by my son to give it to his invalid wife, and she was cured as if by magic."

was troublod with lung or throat affection, pronounced by one physician, consumption. It acted wonderfully on him, and by the time he had taken one bottle of it the cough disappeared. I am now on a visit to my parents in Georgia, but will return in a few days to my home and will certainly take some of the Lung Restorer with me.

And must be had by the 30th day of June if goods at half price can be any inducement. We are willing to lose $1,500 on the actual New York cost of the goods and still make money. On the first day of July we can buy a bankrupt stock of $11,027 67-100 for $5,000 in eash down and in that way we make our money. If this plain statement does not convince the reader a careful perusal of the following prices will enlighten him and get him to thinking that a cyclone has struck Flynn's and torn it all to pieces, and now comes the thunder of our prices that is bound to carry terror to our competitors:
